the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office of National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- Older people should be able to live independently in their own homes for as long as possible.
- Older people should be able to access the services and support they need to live independently.
- Older people should be able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.
- Older people should be able to live in a safe and secure environment.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives for the future of older people's services, including:

- To ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need to live independently.
- To ensure that older people are able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.
- To ensure that older people live in a safe and secure environment.

The strategy also sets out a number of key actions for the future of older people's services, including:

IT'S YOU . . .

IT'S YOU NOW

IT'S YOU IN '83

"I'm sure" and "Go for it" were two expressions that were heard around NorthWood alot in 1983. The first expression was made popular by a song this year called "Valley Girl" by Moon Unit Zappa. The favorite groups, songs, cars, and TV shows were tabulated by polls given to alot of the students. The results are shown on these pages. The big movie of 1983 was E.T. enjoyed and seen by most of the students.

As far as fashion was concerned NorthWood featured many students who demonstrated the "Punk Chic" look of leather pants, straight ties and mini-skirts for the girls. The opposite of the punk look was the "Prep" look demonstrated by probably more students as the look is easier to achieve. To be a prep one would wear Izod shirts, wool sweaters, Levi's and Topsiders. The year 1983 brought back many old favorites like the convertible automobile and World War II as was dramatized in the TV production "The Winds of War". New ideas for 1983 included 3-d TV, designer underwear, and the Tuxedo look for women.

HOMECOMING CELEBRATION

As the lights above the stands flickered out unexpectedly, Beth Hockert was named the 1982 NorthWood Homecoming Queen. Although the weather did not cooperate the evening was a success. Amid frequent downpours the Sophomore banner was proclaimed the winner. Before the game students participated in a pep-rally and a powder-puff football game in which the Sophomores again were the victors. Last year's Queen Kelly Gessinger crowned Beth as the football team rolled on to victory defeating New Prairie on a muddy field. Beth will be back in 1983 to crown the next NorthWood Homecoming Queen.

MASS MOONIE WEDDING

by Darlene Miller

The National Unemployment Rate rose dramatically in 1982 along with the federal budget deficit, but dozens of people were employed making wedding gowns and suits for the moonies.

July found 2075 identically dressed couples standing for two hours in Madison Square Garden exchanging vows and gold rings. I wonder if there was time for a quick switch of partners before the marriage licenses were signed.

1982 AT A GLANCE

by Darlene Miller and Larry Wilson

The year 1982 showed a revival of the old and the emergence of the new. Suits and tuxedos were part of the fashion scene. Everyone started wearing decorative shoelaces and saying "awesome." They read Real Men Don't Eat Quiche, they saw E.T. and ate Reeses Pieces. The toys of kids and adults were Smurfs, Strawberry Shortcake, Annie and Pac-Man. The video and computer craze created a business boom. Fitness, especially aerobic dance, was the word of the day. John Hinckley was committed to an insane asylum, John DeLorean paid $10 million dollars bail for cocaine charges while awaiting trial.

On the international level the world felt the deaths of Princess Grace of Monaco and of Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev. The United States lost several great Americans. Among them Actor Henry Fonda, Football Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, Author John Cheever, and Actress Ingrid Bergman.

FALKLANDS WAR MAKES WORLD UNEASY

by Larry Wilson

"The shot heard 'round the world." This is often used to tell about the first shot of the American Revolution. This quote might also be used to describe the Falklands Islands War.

This war threatened to blow up into World War III. Americans anticipated the entry of the Soviet Union. If this would have happened, the United States would almost surely have entered the war to protect Great Britain.

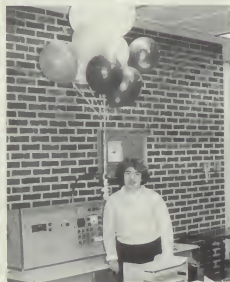

The course for this conflict arose over the question of ownership of a small group of Islands in the South Atlantic. Great Britain claimed ownership, but in the spring of 1982 Argentine forces invaded the Islands. Shortly thereafter English Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher sent forces to the Falklands. After much intense fighting, in which both Britain and Argentina suffered heavy losses, British Forces were able to capture the capitol, Port Stanley. With this came the end of a rather short, hardly fought, war that brought the Argentines to surrender.

The battle is over now, but the threat of a future war may again spring up some day. Until then, World leaders will have to find ways to keep peace on this planet.

defeated as the States failed to ratify it by June 30, 1982. Phyllis Schlafly, a vocal leader of the opposition, rejoiced that ERA was "dead forever." The lady forgot some of the facts though. Within two weeks, the amendment was reintroduced by a joint resolution of 157 Congressmen and 46 Senators. It seems that the chain gangs did some good. # PANTHERS ON PARADE . . . ANOTHER GREAT SHOW

As the auditorium begins to fill with anxious students and parents alike, backstage a group of very nervous students and a slightly ragged choir teacher try and prepare themselves for a new and exciting version of Panthers on Parade, Northwood's own variety show. As always the house was packed with the classmates and parents of those performing. The evening was hosted by emcees Trent Gongwer and Rex Holdeman. The production was under the direction of choir teacher Becky Coffin who also made an appearance in the show as a slightly large-bottomed choir director. Some old friends also made an appearance, or reappearance you might say, Seniors Jill Sholly and Laura Showalter. The girls play the bumbling and funny Panthers on Parade janitors with a knack for interrupting at just the wrong time. All in all the 1982 production of Panthers on Parade was a likeable success with highlights by the Dawning Generation, the rock group Paradox, a Hee-Hawish group of senior girls in the barnyard and a story told to small children by the emcees. Year after year Panthers on Parade is a great show and a demonstration of the talented Northwood students gift of entertainment.

PANTHER PRIDE PREVAILS

Before a certain week of school in March teachers begin to prepare themselves for five days of absurd dress, outrageous behavior and little homework being turned in by students. Otherwise known as Spirit Week, the week of the Basketball sectional consists of days devoted to strange ways of dress and behavior in order to fire-up the Basketball team and the student body. Although NorthWood didn't advance past the first game, the students did have three days to get rowdy. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday turned into Boot 'em Day, Punk Day, and Dress-down Day. Cheerleaders added that almost all students participated with Punk Day being the most successful. A customary hall decoration contest failed this year, however, due to lack of interest. Overall though, Spirit Week 1983 was a success.

PAULA IS CROWNED AS

Prior to one of the biggest games of the season against NorthWood archrival Goshen, Paula LaGuardia was crowned Sweetheart Queen for 1983. Senior Jeff Beck was named Sweetheart King to reign with Paula. Paula is a member of the Volleyball Team and the Girl's Pep-Club. Jeff is Senior Class President, member of the football and Track teams. The 1982 King and Queen crowned Jeff and Paula in Pre-game ceremonies. Other candidates were Caryn Miller and Trent Gongwer and Lori Hartman and Andy Preston. Underclass representatives included Angie Whetstone, Tammy Eby, and Jodi Schwartz. They were escorted by Kirk Beer, Troy Gongwer, and John Beck. Election of the royal couple was held by the Student Council. In a thrilling and very important game, NorthWood defeated Goshen 77-75. Flower carrier and crown bearer for the ceremony were Charlie Zercher and Stephanie Neff. Next year Jeff and Paula will be back to crown the 1984 Sweetheart King and Queen.

"A Man Called Peter"

The fall drama production, "A Man Called Peter," was presented to a nearly full-house each night. It was a play that was well received by the community.

The production portrayed a segment of the life story of one man, and because of his faith in God in all aspects of his life, Peter Marshall, played by Greg Miller, aided those around him to lead happier lives.

Some of the characters that Peter's radiant personality touched were his wife Catherine, played by Barb Sides, Alan Tabbot (Robert Gonzales), Judith Bickle (Ann Neff), Steve Marion, and Susan Grant (Rod Schroeder, Cindy Miller, and Christie Lindsay) and Senator James Knox Polk (Rex Holdeman).

APPLAUSE, APPLAUSE!

The Drama Department's Spring production was a musical entitled "Applause, Applause". The play is the story of two actresses, one whose career is just beginning and the other whose life is on the skids. The play was met with some objection by certain members of the community who found the wordly and realistic content of the play too much. Overall though, the play was a great success.

Lead players included Ann Neff, Lenina Smith, Rex Holdeman, Lane Reed, Ida Cook and Tyler Johnson. The Play was set in New York and dealt with the life of a fading Broadway Star. Highlights of the play included several dance sequences and many great songs.

WE'VE GOT TONIGHT

The 1983 Junior-Senior Prom was held on April 29 at the Come and Dine restaurant in Mishawaka. Although the weather did not cooperate the prom was labeled a success. The prom theme was the title of a song by Bob Seger "We've Got Tonight". Junior Class President Kevin Eby crowned the Prom King and Queen Laura Showalter and Kevin Graber. First runners-up were Steve Hummel and Annette Shively while Kelly Buss and Mark Hahn were second runners-up. Prom goers danced to the sounds of Smithsonian Institute and saw the movie "The Promise".

GRADUATION

On May 22, 1983, one-hundred and sixty seniors graduated from high school to begin the next phase of their lives. The Baccalaureate-commencement speakers were Darlene Miller and Brad Wells. Darlene spoke on success and Brad on the importance of goals.

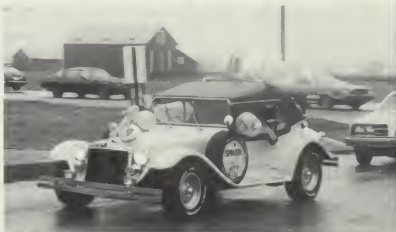

Valedictorian for the Class of '83 was Kim Anglin. Salutatorian was Mark Hahn.

Seniors were presented their diplomas by School Board members and Mr. Keppler. Senior Class President Jeff Beck led the turning of the tassels.

Festivities before graduation included a rainy senior parade, and a class picnic. The Class of 1983's motto was "That's what education means, to be able to do what you've never been able to do before."

Congratulations to all the Graduates.

ACADEMICS

COMPUTERS INTRODUCED INTO AG

Plaques and awards are displayed in the Agriculture classroom.

Agriculture, being very important to our area in Northern Indiana, is an important part of North Woods curriculum. Agriculture classes also coincide with Future Farmers of America. To help Agriculture students learn more about today's new High-tech farming methods the Agriculture Department also introduced Computers into their program. These computers will help Northwood Ag students be better farmers than ever.

Teaching an important point is instructor, Mr. Frank Williams.

Holding the wall up while watching students in the north surge before the girls sectional is Mr. Frank Williams.

FOR ARTISTICALLY INCLINED

Using a variety of pencils, Mark Hahn practices new drawing techniques.

The art program at NWHHS, though smaller this year, offers a variety of classes for students who are artistically inclined and enjoy art. These classes are in the areas of Hobby Crafts, Ceramics, Drawing, Painting, and Commercial Art.

Of all the completed projects, ten pieces of student art work were selected and entered in the St. Francis (Fort Wayne, Indiana) High School Art Exhibit.

In December, senior art students went on a field trip with Mr. Marvin Galbreath to the Chicago Museum of Art, the Sears Tower, several sculptures in downtown Chicago and Marshall Fields.

A Still Life Drawing is tackled by Tammy Cassel, Laura Wenger, and Kent Dyck.

Art I students paint designs to learn how to use watercolors.

Senior Kerry Brich is learning the art of pottery in Ceramics class.

PROTECTION UNDER JUSTICE SYSTEM

This year not only did business classes offer training in clerical work but also in the field of business law. Business Law reconstructed a trial depicting how the justice system works. An organized body of students made the experiment a success. Along with Business Law a varied amount of business classes is offered ranging from Typing, Shorthand, General Business, to Accounting and Salesmanship.

Jeff Beck plays judge for a day in Business Law.

Jim Ely is the master mind defense attorney.

CAREER TRAINING

NorthWood students are offered the choice of attending the Elkhart Area Career Center for further training in a specific career. Students attend for four hours and have the choice to enroll in the morning or afternoon classes. Not only does going to the Career Center offer advanced training to students, but also it allows the students to meet new people and advance their horizons in dealing with a different type of classroom environment.

PARTICIPATION AND CREATIVITY

The success of the English department this year came through class participation and hard work by many students who were eager and willing to get involved.

This year the Journalism class worked to produce NorthWood's first school newspaper—Panther Prints. Panther Prints first issue was successful through the help of the student body.

In addition to Journalism, Speech class focused on public speaking and debates. Many Speech students demonstrated their creativity with skits and demonstration speeches.

To insure that all Language Arts students would have an opportunity to learn at their own pace and to be challenged, many levels of courses were offered.

On the more serious side of English, Mr. Allen's Advanced Writing class reads a student's play.

NEW PROGRAM RUNS WELL

The second year of a two trial program in German is running smoothly. The change is that the third and fourth year German curriculums have been combined into a two year program. Each portion of the program, which includes German history and the development of German literature and art, is taught on alternate years.

The program is running so well that similar changes in the Spanish program are being planned. The Spanish program is also planning to offer a new business unit.

One of the highlights of the German class is making videotapes. "The Great White North" was the theme of this year's video. The filming is beneficial to the class because it makes the students concentrate and better retain the language.

Singing Christmas Carols to an English class are Spanish students.

German students also got into the caroling act during the Christmas Season.

Roger Herschberger holds the cue cards during the filming of the German production of "The Great White North."

Bob and Doug McKenzie of "The Great White North" are played by senior German student, Trent Gongwer and teacher, Mr. Lloyd Brugger.

"LET'S GET PHYSICAL"

The importance of being physically fit is very publicized. The physical education department emphasizes this need, but also tries to make it enjoyable.

To interest students in physical education a wide variety of sports and physical activities were offered. This variety ranged from football and basketball to conditioning and badminton.

Wenda Swihart shoots over the defense in a game in P.E.

Water Basketball was included in the swimming program in P.E.

Roxie Yoder concentrates on her free throw shooting.

MATH BECOMING MORE OF SOCIETY

One year of math is required for incoming freshmen. Their choices ranged from Basic Math to Algebra I.

Along with the above, Algebra II, Geometry, Computer Math, and advanced Math IV are the other electives offered to students in grades 9-12. Students wishing to take advantage of our advanced math classes may take summer computer.

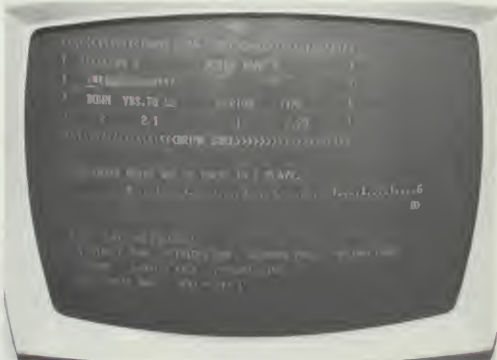

B. Walters works an algebra problem out.

THE MYSTERIES OF SCIENCE

These scholars take a break from the regular class routine.

NorthWood High School's science department ranges from Biology and Earth Sciences to Physics and Chemistry. Miss Rita Hartman's chemistry class along with the Math classes went on a field trip to the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. The trip proved to be an example of the educational value of Field trips.

The advanced biology classes also dissected various animals such as pigs, sharks, and frogs to study the anatomy of these animals. Classes also raised fruit flies in a complicated system to help them learn more about the mysteries of science.

Paul Meissner and Brad Kaser develop a project with careful scientific planning.

Here's a studious bunch!

NEGOTIATIONS IN ECON:

RIGHT: This group of students pretends to look interested.

LABOR VS. MANAGEMENT

Students at NorthWood are able to choose from a wide variety of Social Studies classes. These include Civics, Economics, Government, U.S. History, World History, Psychology, Sociology, Survival in the 80's and others are all available to the interested student. In 1983, as in years past, Rick Coffin's Econ classes conducted mock labor management negotiations. These negotiations included working between sides a labor contract and determining such things as wages, benefits, seniority rights, automation and other realistic aspects in the world of negotiations.

The negotiations really could be related to this year as the teachers often had marathon negotiations trying to determine their own contracts.

FUTURE PROBLEM SOLVERS

In 1983 the team that went farthest for NorthWood was the first year Future Problem Solving Team. The team consisted of four seniors and advisor Mr. Bill Swigert. The objective of the future Problem Solving Team is to write a paper dealing with a problem of conflict faced by the world today, topics include famine, nuclear fusion, atomic warfare, and automation. The Problem solvers are pitted against teams from other schools who have the same objective. The team won the state bowl and competed in the National Competition in Iowa over Memorial Day Weekend.

Future Problem Solvers: Kevin Graber, Brad Wells, Mr. Bill Swigert, Darlene Miller, and Steve Wagner.

Brad Price quickly cleans the glue off his project in wood class.

TRAINING FOR INDUSTRY

Wiping off the ink that they find on their hands are Myron Risser and Kevin Kern

Computers are quickly becoming a necessity in industry, especially tool and die and machine shop establishments. To keep in stride with the changes in industry and to continue to train students in the methods of industry, the Industrial Arts department is also looking toward the use of computers.

Computers may eventually be used in Electronics and Electricity classes, a CAD (Computer Assisted Drafting/Design) in Architectural and Mechanical Drawing, and a CAM (Computer Assisted Machining) in Machine Shop. These changes would better prepare students for the quickly changing world of work.

Creativity and Craftsmanship are displayed by the doll house that Mr. Richard Geyer works on.

HOBBY CRAFTS TAUGHT IN

Senior Students Teresa Bechtold, Darcy Powell, Teri Lutes, and Deb Elliott sample a vegetable tray.

Are Home Economics classes "for girls only?" Of course not. This is obvious because of the very noticeable increase in male Home Ec students this year. This increase is noticeable in nearly all classes, but especially in Foods, Marriage & Family Living, Living as Two, and Parenting classes.

In addition to seeing more guys enrolled in Home Ec classes, sewing classes had a new feature this year—fabric crafts. The idea is that these crafts, Soft Sculpture, Needle point, Candlewicking, and Chicken Scratches can be used as hobbies and as a source of income. This is in addition to teaching the basic stitches and sewing procedures.

There is also a change in the Housing class this year. When the class discusses the idea of "energy proofing" one's home to conserve fuel is stressed.

Who says seniors don't play in sand-boxes? Here Pam Slabaugh plays in the sandbox while visiting a pre-school.

Presenting to the class their reasons for wanting a certain type of house are Norma Ramirez and Gina Eads.

CHANGES IN CHOIR PROGRAM

A new music program was used this year, but it will be changed next year. During the 1982-83 school year, the choirs were arranged into a freshman/sophomore choir, the Concert Choir, a junior/senior choir, Choralaires, and the select choir, Dawning Generation, which is composed of juniors and seniors.

A major revision in the next year's program in that Dawning Generation will be offered for credit.

Choir department enjoyed nearly 100% participation in Solo and Ensemble competition. In all, 40 students performed at state, and all but two groups received top awards.

The Music Department's fund raiser was also very successful this year. Over $5,500 was earned by the music students selling Sausage and Cheese in November.

All choir combined to sing the finale of the Christmas Concert, while the band accompanied them.

Senior Kim Bauman sings "For Your Eyes Only".

THE SOUNDS OF MUSIC

Though poorly attended those who did show at Soundstations were treated to a trip through memory lane as the Jazz Band and Dawning Generation performed music from the early 1900's through the 40's, 50's, 60's to the 80's.

This year the Band and D. G. alternated performances to add variety in the show and the Jazz Band dressed according to the time styles of the dates of the music.

One portion of Dawning Generation performance was that of a commercial medley because when one thinks about it—America would not be America without commercials.

The girls also danced to a black light number. They danced to prerecorded music under black lights.

STATE AGAIN

Participating in the State Marching Band Contest for the second year in a row is the honor received by this year's Scarlet Guard, under the first-year direction of Mr. Paul Milliman. A great deal of practice, dedication, and preparation are needed to accomplish this feat.

Band members must be willing to learn music on their own, and to practice shows the entire seventh hour until 4:30 during marching season. Saturday practices are also needed at times to perfect the show. Interestingly, once the band played

"Come in From the Rain" when they were outside practicing in the rain.

Band members had to work harder this year because the football half-time shows were changed more often than in past years. Changing the show makes the performances more interesting for the audience, but more practice time is required.

This extra work payed off for Laura Showalter who was chosen as a member of the McDonald's All-American High School Band.

A pair of mimes, Mike Stanifer and Derek Miller lead a row of band members.

The Highlights perform a special dance routine.

The only identifiable clown in this act is Michelle Middleton.

One highlight for the band this year was performing in Nappanee's sister town in Ontario during the end of April, and then hosting their high school bands in Nappanee in May.

These Canadian performances were for the Concert band and the Jazz Band. The bands also performed in the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Beth Stichter and Jenny Metzler practice as comfortably as possible.

TEACHERS O.K. CONTRACT

The teachers started out the 1982-83 school year without a contract. In negotiations with the school board, Marv Galbreath, Gil Reed, Carla Mishler, and Louis Bonacorsi represented the teachers. The teachers agreed early that a strike would not be part of their tactics. Amid much public speculation, negotiation continued until late October. One marathon session lasted nine hours. A federal mediator was to arrive the day after the teachers contract was finally settled. Teacher representative Marv Galbreath added that compromise on both sides aided negotiations.

THE RESULTS ARE IN...THE 1983 SENIOR SURVEY

The Class of '83 senior Survey features the results of polling the entire senior class of NorthWood High School on their classmates that they feel best exemplify the characteristics of ten positions. This year the Logue deleted six categories to give the senior survey a streamlined affect. The tabulation and counting of the ballots took the Logue staff a long time but the results are in. On a Tuesday afternoon all the seniors involved were dragged to all corners of the school in a valiant attempt to give the pictures a new and fresher appearance. We hope that your senior choices won.

SENIORS CHOSEN TO LEAD

"It's an honor to be a class officer," declares Senior secretary-treasurer Ann Neff. But along with the honor goes a lot of responsibility. Senior-class President Jeff Beck states, "The class officers are responsible for holding executive council meetings, ordering senior keys, and choosing the announcements used by the class." "I think that the senior class officers are a fairly good representation of the Class of 1983," comments senior class Vice-President Andy Preston. The 1983 senior class officers feel that they know most of the seniors and respect their different interests. All three officers felt that they were qualified for the jobs and could execute them well. Class president Jeff Beck feels lucky to have his classmates trust and respect. Jeff was president of his class last year also. The three officers work together with class sponsors Mr. Swigert and Mr. Coffin. At the end of the 1982 school year the new officers were taken out to dinner as a kind of inauguration and briefing to their duties and responsibilities as senior class officers. The senior officers for the class of 1983 felt surprised at first and honored to be selected by their classmates. The officers would like to congratulate the Class of 1983 for making this year the best.

SENIORS FEEL THEY ACCOMPLISHED MUCH AT NORTHWOOD

Many members of the Class of 1983 will live with the things they accomplished at Northwood for the rest of their lives. Many gained insight into their interests and developed skills they can use in the job market. Many Seniors were introduced to the computer, an instrument that is taking the world by storm, learned skills such as accounting and how to repair automobiles in Auto Mechanics. Accomplishments of many included being on the honor roll all four years of High School or maintaining a certain Grade Point Average. The most important accomplishment of all for everyone was making friends. Many of these friendships will last a lifetime while many will disappear as we go to college.

SENIOR MEMORIES

As seniors, we, possibly for the first time begin wondering what the world beyond high school holds for us. Soon, as we mature we are bombarded with situations that we've never before faced. Although these can be exciting, we must make decisions—decisions that will effect our future.

We often look back on high school and remember the fun and memorable experiences and we realize that four years has really gone quickly. Throughout these four years at Northwood we have gained many special friends and have learned some very valuable lessons. We have matured not only in height and weight but in knowledge as well. We have discovered ourselves. These pages are a reminder of "The way we were."

Top: As a sophomore, Kelly Buss and her classmates learned the true meaning of studying in Biology class.

Above: As freshmen, we discovered how important Pizza Hut was to our advancement in the social world.

Right: Gathering in the north surge at noon has always been classes favorite pastimes.

Top: All of our athletes, as Lynli Hockett shows here, improved over the years.

Top Right: We show our spirit, as Shari Walters and Pam Slabaugh do here, to support the many school events.

Center: Expanding our personal interests, as sophomore Kim Bauman did, was an enjoyable part of our curriculum.

Above: As an active participant in girls athletics, Tammy Lechitner improved tremendously throughout high school.

Left: As Freshmen, we became involved in Northwood's many activities, such as Campus Life.

ADMINISTRATORS ARE BUSY

Mr. Owens is "caught" teaching one of his classes.

Could this be Mr. Keppler, our principal?

This year proved to be very interesting in attendance with not only students but also with teachers. During this past winter some 10 teachers were absent in one day. Our administrators filled in for a few hours until substitutes could be found.

The week before Spring Break the secretaries were swamped with students asking for yellow papers necessary to leave early for Florida. It seems that if we had a two week vacation instead of a one week vacation the problem of extra paper work would be solved.

Mr. Lehman looks dignified as he poses for this picture.

Administrative Secretaries: J. Engle, R. Eastland, and J. Riley.

ADMINISTRATORS ARE DECISION MAKERS

The school board, superintendents, and secretaries helped make 1983 run smoothly here at NorthWood. The school board had to negotiate with the teachers in the beginning of the year to settle their contract. The board and superintendent also passed rules dealing with tougher graduation requirements beginning with the freshman class of 1985.

School Board: James Graybill, Larry Wagner, Larry Andrews, standing: Ross Sloat, Dr. Robert Abel, Ray Pippenger, and Paul Parks.

HELPING US OUT

The cooks and janitors have been working hard cleaning up and feeding us this year.

The cooks went to the bother of setting up a salad bar for us every once in a while. Besides the salad bar, they began a breakfast program. This is for students who didn't have to eat breakfast or those who got here early for sports practice. They got to the school early and started preparing that day's meal. For those who didn't like the regular meals, they made cookies and there were other snacks there to eat.

The janitors worked after hours too. They kept the school nice and clean for us while we attended classes and participated in extracurricular activities.

Anxious Drama members prepare their make-up on opening night.

THE SHOW MUST GO ON

This year as always, the Drama Club presented two great plays to the community. The fall production was the story of "A Man Called Peter". The play was the story of a man and his relationship with god and society in general. The lead characters in "A Man Called Peter" were played by Greg Miller and Barb Sides. Other characters were portrayed by Robert Gonzales and Ann Neff. The Drama Club's spring production was "Applause, Applause". This play was received with some objection by the community concerning it's subject matter but went ahead on schedule. "Applause, Applause" told the story of a fading Broadway star played by Ann Neff and a rising young star played by Lenina Smith, and their reactions to each others careers. Other players in this great performance included Tyler Johnson, Rex Holdeman, and Jill Lantis.

Sports made an entrance into Drama in 1983 as a team of Thespians Basketball players were entered into a charity basketball tournament. The Drama Club also sponsored a successful rock concert in April featuring the group Surrender. The Drama Club and Thespians are under the direction of Steve Phillips.

SLINGIN' INK AROUND

Although the title to this article probably wouldn't qualify for publication, the Inkslinger Literary magazine seeks the literary skills of students for the major amount of it's content. The Inkslinger was published by Darlene Miller with the assistance of advisor Sara Biltz. Darlene selects poetry and short stories written by students and submitted by their English teachers. Darlene explained that she was the "succesor" from last years magazine. Darlene noted that the 1983 Inkslinger featured mostly quality work in it's different format. Especially some concrete poetry by Denise Bennet and art-work by Mark Hahn. The magazine was out to the student body by May.

Tanya Weaver cuts just the right shape for an article.

F.C.A.: YAWN!

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization for christian students emphasizing the importance of religion and athletics. Officers for the 1983 year were Jeff Beck, president, Wanda Rohrer, vice-president, and Brad Wells, secretary-treasurer. The FCA meets every Thursday morning at 7:30 A.M. Membership is open to everyone and students can participate in the twice-a-year hour study periods before semester exams.

Members are invited to attend a week long summer conference located in Minnesota. This school year three Grace College students helped advisors Terry Johns, Dennis Owens, and Gail Greenlee hold the meetings.

Campus Life is an organization for students to get together and share experiences about school and life and to help each other adjust. # ACTIVE CLUB

Although smaller in size than last year, this years' Active Club did many of the same things as last years club did. Highlights for this year included bake sales, sponsoring a dance, a Christmas Party for the children of faculty members, a slumber party and many other activities. Officers for the club included Missy Sumpter as Secretary, Laura Everly as Vice-President, and Sally Rensberger as President. The club's advisor is Mrs. Yoder.

COMPUTERIZED FARMING

NorthWoods FFA members participated in many activities this year. One activity was selling garden seeds door to door. The members were also sold at a slave auction to work for the highest bidder.

FFA members also took part in livestock judging. They had a display set up at the Pierre Moran Mall in honor of agriculture. A banquet was held at Port-A-Pit Banquet hall, where awards for the past year are given. This year computers were introduced into the agricultural classes.

STUDENT LEADERS

The student council is an important part of the representation of NorthWood students in school government. Eight representatives are elected from each class making a total of thirty-two members. Officers for this school year were Mike Wagner as President, Chip Stump, vice-president, and Ann Neff, reporter, and Wanda Rohrer as Secretary. The student council is responsible for several dances, a Christmas fund raising project, the Homecoming and Sweetheart ceremonies, class elections and convocations. Student Council advisors are Tom Allen and Vice-Principal Phil Lehman.

Some senior girls get into the student council sponsored dances after ballgames.

HOMINES STUDII LAUDANTUR

The National Honor Society is a very important part of the Northwood Student Body. The National Honor Society is a group of Juniors and Seniors, chosen by the faculty, based on the characteristics of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. The Members were inducted in an honors ceremony on a Sunday in the Fall. Notre Dame student Steve Strakowski addressed the students as new pledges were inducted. Officers include Brad Wells as President, Lane Reed as Vice-President, Beth Stichter as Secretary-Treasurer. The National Honor Society pledges received pins from advisors Carlyle Frederick and Janet Vanderkolk. Activities on this years agenda include the sale of Valentine Carnations and the Easter Egg Message Sale.

HELPING OUT IN THE OFFICES

The duties of the office and guidance office assistants are as varied and different as they are. There is one assistant in both offices for each hour. The office assistants answer the main phone, take messages, and run errands. Office assistants must apply for the position and the acceptance is based on grades, attendance and the students personality. The guidance office assistants simply ask to be workers in the guidance and assist secretary Mrs. Loucks. Guidance office assistants put together programs, schedule students, check typing, and help out in general. The secretaries and staff are truly grateful to the help offered by these students.

IT'S YOU IS GOOD STUFF

The foundation of the 1983 Logue was improvement based on past mistakes. The Logue staff members made more use of the dominant picture layout and the small group picture rule. Editor Andy Preston and Assistant Editor Kerry Brich along with Junior Editors Jodi Schwartz and Susan Marks attended summer workshop at Butler University in Indianapolis again during the summer. Many of the new ideas and the need for major improvement were brought back from Indianapolis. The Logue Staff is made up of fourteen students and advisor Sandy Korenstra. Editor was Andy Preston with Kerry Brich as assistant Editor. Susan Marks and Jodi Schwartz were Junior co-Editors. Photographers were Dru Pippenger and Kevin Kern. Section workers included Album: Nancy Weldy, Mary Benedict and Lisa Heckaman; Sports: Steve Birk and Lori Hartman; Academics: Mark Hahn and Bob Gonzales; and Clubs: Patty Birky and Laura Everly. Contrary to popular belief however, Logue staffers did get to enjoy some cultural advancement activities as rewards for their time and hardwork.

REGIONALS!!

The Northwood Baseball Team advanced to the championship game of the South Bend Regional. They were defeated in a heart-breaking 4 to 3 decision by South Bend Washington. The Panthers were ranked 14th in the state during the year. They were tied for first place in the conference until the last game when they were Beaten by Warsaw.

Tim Weaver was the MVP and batting champ with a .451 average. Tim was also on the honorable mention all-state team and was on the North all-star team. Kevin Riley was the team captain and on the first team conference. Mike Wagner was also on the first team conference. Carl Reinhardt, Darin BeMiller, and Kurt Hand were on the second team conference. In the summer the Northwood underclassmen played a tough schedule and they had 7 wins and 4 losses.

AND THEY'RE OFF . . .

The Panther cross-country finished the season with a 1-10 record, but the record does not reflect the gains made. Mark Miller was elected the team captain. Mike Cleveland was the most valuable and most improved runner. He and Jim Chambers, both seniors, ran 1 & 2 all year and will be missed next year. # REBUILDING

The 1983 girl's Tennis experienced a losing season due mainly to rebuilding. This years team was led by three seniors; Beth Ervin, Deb Dorsey and Kerry Brich. Ervin had a successful season as she was voted the team's Most Valuable Player, and played her way to see Regional Tennis action. However the team was defeated by Elkhart Memorial again this year in the Sectional. Award winners beside Ervin, were Shelly George with Most Doubles wins, and Shana Hand as Most Improved Player.

Senior Deb Dorsey gets low for a forehand.

Bruce Hirstein executes a perfect putt.

PAR FOR THE COURSE

The 1983 season was a rocky one for Coach Mike Breske's panther golfers. The panthers played their matches on the Nappanees Municipal golf course, South Shore golf course and Max Welton golf course.

Golfing at the number one position and also the teams Most Valuable Golfer was sophomore Steve Yoder. The best putting award went to the Number one JV golfer Todd Gerber. Jeff Bridenstine shared the best putting award.

The panthers finished 8th in conference and 11th in sectional play. The Freshman and Sophomore players placed first in the LaVile Freshmen-Sophomore Invitational.

SECTIONAL HOSTS IN '83

The girls' track team successfully hosted its first IHSAA sectional meet for 209 athletes from 18 schools, placing seventh with a record sixteen girls qualified for competition.

Six school records were broken thirteen times by the young panthers and junior Angie Pletcher set a sectional record in the 400 meter dash. She was voted outstanding athlete and was voted the most valuable track performer. Other awards went to senior Tammy Lechlitrner, most valuable in field events; Senior Jenny Truex, honorary team captain, and sophomore Tammy Jones, most improved athlete. Silver track shoes were presented to seniors Angie Blosser, Tammy Lechlitrner, Jenny Truex and Managers Betty Culp and Penny Huffer. Jenny Truex graduates with a single season record of 192 points, a career record of 460.5 points and her name on five school records. Junior Angie Pletcher also advanced to see State competition by placing fifth in the Ft. Wayne semi-State.

Coaches Bonnie Slegel, Dennis Owens, Robert Harkness and Kirt Hunsberger assisted Richard Pletcher.

Wilma shows perfect form.

Introducing the INNSBRUCK...

A home engineered with excellence, for gracious living!

The new architectural concept in affordable, energy-saving housing!

The Innsbruck, a Kingsley home, is a new architectural concept in affordable, energy saving housing. It is built with 6" exterior walls (2 x 6 studs 16" on center) with Thermo-Ply sheathing and 6" of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Insulation, for an effective insulation value of over R-21! And that's only the beginning of the energy-saving features of this remarkable home.

But that's not all there is to the Innsbruck. It is spacious and rich in gracious living features and storage space. There are two-and three-bedroom floor plans; and each plan has a cathedral ceiling, large living room with a separate dining area, a big kitchen, a separate utility room, two full bathrooms and floor-to-ceiling closets. Patio doors and skylights are optional, as are many other custom-home features, all at a manufactured-home price.

There's a very good chance that someday you will buy a site-delivered home, such as the Innsbruck, a home designed by housing professionals, and engineered and built in a factory. If you like, it will come to you complete with furniture. It will certainly include all major appliances. There will also be carpeting on the floor and curtains at the windows.

We build the forerunners of your new home every day, right here in Nappanee. Fairmont Homes, Inc. is the largest manufactured housing operation at one location in the world, occupying nearly 100 acres. In little more than a decade we've become the leading builder of site-delivered homes in the Midwest. We'll be here when you're ready for a home of your own.

We believe in the future of site-delivered housing.
And we believe in you.

The integrity people

"Integrity." Our dictionary defines it as "1 Rigid adherence to a code; 2 Soundness; 3 Completeness."

We think it's what makes Holiday Rambler a very special corporation.

We work by one simple code — to give you everything and more you deserve in a fine family camping vehicle.

It's how we've earned our good name... and your trust... over the last 30 years. And it's how we hope to keep both in the years ahead.

We're proud to be a leader in the industry. In engineering. Manufacturing. And research and development. And we know to keep this position, we have to continue to improve ourselves.

Which is what we think we've done with our complete line of 1983 Holiday Rambler motorhomes, mini-motorhomes, travel trailers and fifth wheel travel trailers.

We invite you to discover what our reputation for integrity can mean to you.

Holiday Rambler Corporation

The theme of this book is "It's You". This book is for all the people who went to NorthWood and in their own way made their mark. Many people have been recognized and praised, but the average student is what "It's You" is all about.

I owe many thanks to many people for making this book possible. Firstly, I would like to thank my Yearbook advisor Sandy Korenstra for her help and guidance. Two people who were terribly important to this yearbook are Mr. and Mrs. Bud Miner. Nearly every picture in this book was developed by them. I would like to thank our Newsfoto Yearbook representative Derald Ailes. To the yearbook staff at Elkhart Central, a special thanks for producing such great yearbooks and inspiring us to do as well. I would also like to thank the Senior and underclassmen yearbook staffers and all of the people in the office, and also Mr. Mike Weaver. All of these people have helped make "IT'S YOU" your book.

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age has increased from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion, and the number of people aged 65 and over has increased from 0.2 billion to 0.5 billion (United Nations 1999).

There are a number of reasons why the world population is ageing. First, the number of people who survive to old age has increased. In 1950, the life expectancy at birth was 47 years for men and 51 years for women. By 1990, it had increased to 68 years for men and 74 years for women (United Nations 1999). This increase in life expectancy is due to a number of factors, including improvements in medical care, better nutrition, and a decline in infant mortality.

Second, the number of people who are aged 65 and over has increased. In 1950, there were 0.2 billion people aged 65 and over in the world. By 1990, there were 0.5 billion people aged 65 and over. This increase is due to a number of factors, including improvements in medical care, better nutrition, and a decline in infant mortality.

Third, the number of people who are aged 65 and over has increased. In 1950, there were 0.2 billion people aged 65 and over in the world. By 1990, there were 0.5 billion people aged 65 and over. This increase is due to a number of factors, including improvements in medical care, better nutrition, and a decline in infant mortality.

Fourth, the number of people who are aged 65 and over has increased. In 1950, there were 0.2 billion people aged 65 and over in the world. By 1990, there were 0.5 billion people aged 65 and over. This increase is due to a number of factors, including improvements in medical care, better nutrition, and a decline in infant mortality.

Fifth, the number of people who are aged 65 and over has increased. In 1950, there were 0.2 billion people aged 65 and over in the world. By 1990, there were 0.5 billion people aged 65 and over. This increase is due to a number of factors, including improvements in medical care, better nutrition, and a decline in infant mortality.

Sixth, the number of people who are aged 65 and over has increased. In 1950, there were 0.2 billion people aged 65 and over in the world. By 1990, there were 0.5 billion people aged 65 and over. This increase is due to a number of factors, including improvements in medical care, better nutrition, and a decline in infant mortality.

Seventh, the number of people who are aged 65 and over has increased. In 1950, there were 0.2 billion people aged 65 and over in the world. By 1990, there were 0.5 billion people aged 65 and over. This increase is due to a number of factors, including improvements in medical care, better nutrition, and a decline in infant mortality.

Eighth, the number of people who are aged 65 and over has increased. In 1950, there were 0.2 billion people aged 65 and over in the world. By 1990, there were 0.5 billion people aged 65 and over. This increase is due to a number of factors, including improvements in medical care, better nutrition, and a decline in infant mortality.
